

The Physiology of BioElectricity; why we require Eleven Sessions in one Month to become “fully charged.”

The Treatment Series is based upon the knowledge that there is a “cumulative effect” to the repetition of movement of microcurrents along Meridians over a period of time.

Like anything else, such as exercise, good nutrition, expansive breathing, and visualization – the more we do it at first, the sooner the habit takes hold.

This applies to our BioElectricity in the same way. Four sessions the first week will “jump start” dead batteries and “wake up” dormant nerve cells. The push of the current produces this effect. A gentle push is all it takes, repeated daily (four days the first week) and by the first weekend, everyone notices changes beginning to take place in their body and mind.

Why?

Sluggish circulation of nerve energy is associated with poor blood and lymph circulation. Low absorption of Oxygen can lead to cell death; from brain cells to heart tissue cells and all other cells. It is imperative for the overall health of the organism that BioElectricity circulates freely throughout. The delivery of Oxygen molecules as well as bio-available ions (nutrients from food) must reach every cell for repair, regeneration, and replacement.

The Acuscope can help a body/mind to reestablish lines of communication from brain to fingers and toes; into the internal viscera (organs) and the endocrine glands as well. Much depends on the Spinal Nerve Roots. If they are compressed unevenly, eventually there will be blockages, impingements, backed up currents that are associated with chronic inflammation. This can be resolved; it is why the Spine Y-Probe Procedure is PART ONE of Treatment #2!

In the first week, we thoroughly address the Meridians and the Spinal Nerve Roots in PART ONE of every session in order to accomplish this goal. Overall, general, systemic circulation of microamperage currents via the neural pathways will produce a foundation for painful areas to absorb the benefits of PART TWO (Acuscope Direct) and PART THREE (Myopulse Direct).

When PART FOUR (Cranial Electrical Stimulation – CES) ends each session, there is also a cumulative effect. The brainwaves begin to establish a signal (waveform) associated with relaxed “nerves.” The Central Nervous System directly benefits from the introduction of sustained Alpha Frequency (8 or 10 Hz) waveforms using the Ear Clips or HeadBand with eyes closed in a safe, warm, quiet, darkened room. It is like a “reset button” for your Central Computer.

By the second week, M-W-F Sessions will reinforce the effect. Less resistance in all Meridians. Reduced inflammation where it has been addressed in PARTS TWO & THREE. Better sleep. Cheerful outlook. Relaxed nerves! Less pain.

During the third week, most people will be feeling significantly better when the BioElectricity is charged this way. Our four trillion cells (of all types) are like tiny electrolytic batteries. They become discharged over time. They are rechargeable if you know how! They can also die!

Doesn't it makes sense that when the Acuscope GAIN can be reduced while addressing the Meridians in Session 8 (the first of two sessions, Week Three) in comparison to what was required in PART ONE Session #1 we are seeing the results of improved BioElectricity,; i.e., circulation of nerve current, blood supply, lymph distribution and drainage?

Everyone can use a complete Acuscope-Myopulse BioElectricity overhaul if they've been living for years on earth during this time period, under the stressful circumstances of life today.

Sign up now for yours. Schedule 4-3-2-1 over one month and you might be amazed at how good you can feel!

To insure staying power and continued improvement, you may decide to have Maintenance Sessions once per week for one month; then, once per month thereafter. If you are suddenly, unexpectedly injured or have a life-threatening experience, your organs, glands, blood and lymph circulation, Nervous System and Connective Tissue will be in good, strong, resilient condition. You'll simply schedule a few sessions to quickly return your mind and body to a healthy state of vitality, cells fully charged.
